FOREWORD

London Bible Institute and Theological Seminary provides an integrated, well-balanced program which is designed to develop mature, discerning, holy men and women.

As we study the Word and grow in the wisdom and love of God, we are conscious that Jesus Christ must be pre-eminent in every part of our lives. In our scholastic life, our spiritual life, in our lives as students and in our lives of service for the King, Jesus Christ is the only Way, for He said, "I am the Way...no man cometh unto the Father but by me."

And so in our 1960 Ambassador we present each phase of our school with the theme — I AM THE WAY

Dedication

Mr. Winslow has endeared himself to all of us at the London Bible Institute by his quiet manner, sincerity and sense of humour. We have grown to love him during our years here.

Mr. Winslow has been keenly interested in L.B.I. since its inception twenty-five years ago and has followed with love and concern the growth of our school. He has been a part-time faculty member for sixteen years—longer than any of our present faculty members. He has also been an active member of the Board of Directors for many years and presently is Vice-chairman of this group of Godly men.

We love him for his desire to serve the Lord in every facet of his life and for his great enthusiasm to live life to its fullest.

This stately, white-haired gentleman is “tops” according to his students. We admire and wonder at his knowledge. In archaeology classes his students sit transfixed as they mentally step back with him into the pages of history and relive with Noah and David, Pericles and Josephus, the events of the ancient world.

A lover and collector of books, Mr. Winslow imparts to his students his desire to gain knowledge and the joy he experiences from reading. Shelves of books line his study. Those he refers to most in class are marked by scores of tattered scraps of paper—it is a mystery to his students how he manages to remember what each book mark indicates.

Above all, Mr. Winslow loves our Lord and the Word. We are aware in his presence of the fragrance of Christ and of his close walk with our Lord.

*It is with great admiration and appreciation for what you have meant to each of us that we dedicate the 1960 Ambassador to you,
Mr. Winslow.*

In Memorium

"As for me . . . I shall be satisfied, when I awake with Thy likeness." (Psa. 17:15). On November 2, 1959 Dr. Percy Harris, our beloved president entered into the house of Jehovah to dwell forever in the home prepared for him by Christ. Now he understands why polio struck him, why he lay paralyzed for three weeks with a respirator or an iron lung, and why at thirty-seven years of age God took him from us—we cannot.

It is not for us to question God's plan and God's way. We can rejoice knowing that our president is in the presence of our Lord.

To us, Dr. Harris' life was characterized by the words of Isaiah 30:15, "In quietness and confidence shall be your strength." His quiet dignity and spiritual attainment were a living example to us of his deep devotion to his Lord.

A ready smile and mischievous twinkle in his eye revealed to us his keen sense of humour and love of fun. Alumni and students who knew Dr. Harris will always remember when he would shoulder his saddle bag, lace up his boots, pull a battered hat over his ears and lead his "family" safari out on a lion hunt. Tramp, tramp . . . up hills, down cliffs, up trees, over rivers . . . ceeeeeek! a lion! over rivers, down trees, up cliffs, down hills . . . home! "Daddy" Harris always managed to get us home safely. What a man!

Those of us who have been fortunate enough to sit in his classes or under his ministry will remember his joy in sharing the Word of God with us. He delighted to tell us, "As for God, his way is perfect."

Dr. Harris

Percy H. Harris, Th.D.

Dr. Harris was loved by everyone who knew him. Here are some of the things that his "L.B.I. family" said of him:

"Dr. Harris was the finest example I have ever known of the practical exercise of faith in crises. I have seen him walk through explosive, career-wrecking situations with a calm trust in God's supply of wisdom and power — and the wisdom and power came . . ."

"To me Dr. Harris was a living example of the quietness and confidence spoken of in Isaiah 30:15 . . ."

Dr. Harris was a man of God. In him I could see a man who had 'ceased to lay foundations' and was going on into deeper truths of the whole council of God. He was a man dedicated to the very difficult task of teaching; he also realized that naught but the Spirit of God could make the lesson real. To me he was an example of what an administrator should be. He showed Christ in all things—the Spirit worked through him" . . .

"Dr. Harris was a man that typified to me an unpretentious man. He certainly possessed practical and academic acclaim in the work of the Lord; he nevertheless was a man — a man that was well liked, not aloof from everyday living although he walked with God." . . .

"When I think of Dr. Harris I think of him as a great man of God. These words of J. N. Darby seem to sum up my thoughts.

TRUE GREATNESS

Learn to grapple with souls. Aim at the conscience. Exalt Christ. Use a sharp knife with yourself. Say little, serve all, pass on.

This is true greatness, to serve unnoticed and to work unseen.

Oh, the joy of having nothing and being nothing, seeing nothing but a LIVING CHRIST IN GLORY, and being careful for nothing but His interests down here.

The Late President

MRS. HARRIS, PAUL AND ELIZABETH

Dr. Percy Harris, the late president of the London Bible Institute led a very adventurous, full life. His training for the ministry at the University of Western Ontario was interrupted by the war. As a bombardier in the RCAF, he was shot down over Germany. In an internment camp God "got hold of him" he said, and his spiritual life deepened.

Following the war he earned a B.A. at Western and a Th.M. at Dallas Theological Seminary. He came to L.B.I. as a faculty member in 1951.

In 1958 he became president of L.B.I. and also received his Th.D. degree from Dallas. For a year and a half he led our school.

Mrs. Harris has taken an active part in school life and has always been personally interested in each student. She belongs to the Ladies' Auxiliary and sponsors the Wives' Club for married students.

Six-year-old Elizabeth and two-year-old Paul are the two lovely Harris children.

MRS. DIXON

Mr. Dixon is a very quiet, softly spoken man. On first meeting him, you might not suspect his great capability to lead and direct. He has been a member of our Board of Directors for twenty-one years and president of the Board since 1957.

Mr. Dixon has lived all of his life in London, Ontario, where he received his education and has his own business, Dixon Van Lines, Limited.

His sweet, charming wife is perhaps best known to the students because of her work in the Ladies' Auxiliary. She, too, has been interested in L.B.I. for many years and personally acquaints herself with the students and their needs.

We owe a great deal to Mr. and Mrs. Dixon. Their selflessness and dedicated lives have been a great asset to L.B.I. and its students.

Accreditation

L. B. I. has achieved another step in its constant effort to improve the quality of its training. On October 28, 1959, our school was admitted as a fully accredited member to the Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges. This recognition is not only an encouragement to us, but also is of specific help in the following ways:

1. To friends and prospective students, it is an assurance of college training of high quality, both spiritually and academically.
2. To present students, it means their training here will receive wider recognition. Accreditation places L. B. I. in a leading position among Canadian Bible Colleges. It also opens the door into sympathetic undergraduate and graduate schools. For example, Wheaton College will now accept all parallel credits without examination. At least four graduate institutions of recognized standing have either accepted our graduates, or have expressed their willingness to do so, on a par with graduates from liberal arts colleges and universities.

Accreditation does not necessarily open doors into all Canadian colleges of liberal arts. Since there is no exclusively Canadian organization for evaluating higher education, each school evaluates every other school individually. In general, colleges follow the lead of the universities in granting transfer credits. However, accreditation will certainly help our graduates to gain more recognition from such schools in Canada.

3. To alumni, accreditation assures them of the stability of their alma mater. L. B. I. is worthy of their continued prayer and support.

Accreditation, however, is not a substitute for spirituality. In fact, the A.A.B.C. insists on a vital Christian atmosphere and missionary vision as one criterion for accreditation.

Nor is accreditation the climax of our development. It is only a stepping stone. As God enables, L. B. I. will continue to develop in the quality and quantity of young people it prepares. In the words of a former president, Dr. James Bedford, we must "Keep on keeping on."

A Message from Mr. Morrison

"The shoemaker's boy is often the poorest shod."

Too often public profession and activity are accompanied by inward neglect and declension. Life may be filled with activity, briskness and energy. Every moment may be occupied.

No vital work however, can be accomplished for God unless He has been able to work in our own heart first.

It is true that God calls us to activity. But the inner life must not be neglected in the midst of endeavour and effort. God's calls to the secret place of communion are just as insistent as His demands for work.

Our greatest work is prayer. Our mightiest weapon is the faith which links us with our Omnipotent God. Our surer victory is obtained when with the Captain of our Salvation we abide in the place of fellowship with Him.

Faculty

Our faculty are a group of dedicated men and women from widespread parts of North America with varying degrees from American and Canadian universities and colleges. The academic standing of L.B.I.'s faculty collectively is one of the best in Bible Colleges in North America.

They have an outstanding thing in common — they are all members of the body of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. In Him their varying personalities and characters are unified by the bond of His love.

In Him they work together to reach their goal of high spiritual and academic standards in Christian training.

Learn of Me

As a class you have approved of Christ's command, "Learn of Me." I am convinced that you have gone beyond mere approval and have reached the point of actually learning of Him. May you continue to learn of Him until you become like Him.

Retrospect of a Grad

Remember those early days of Orientation? Such a whirl of activity greeted us as we received a hearty welcome, the name Freshman, and a class motto, "Learn of Me."

This was our purpose in coming to L.B.I. — to learn more of Him.

Our learning came not only through the example of godly professors and the exposition of God's Word but also through experiences great and small.

Financial crises and Satan's attacks on both the school and the individual were all met by a loving, faithful God.

Our first great experience came unexpectedly in the homegoing of our dear registrar, Miss Jean Scott. Her testimony, sung by the choir at her funeral, will always quicken our hearts when we hear it: "Beneath the Cross of Jesus I Fain Would Take My Stand". We missed the sweet presence of that one so influential in the lives of countless students.

And soon we were to miss another. At our first graduation ceremony came the announcement of Dr. Gannett's return to Dallas Theological Seminary as a professor. We were happy for our president, but sad at our loss.

In the spring of our second year we rejoiced when through Dr. Joseph Macaulay, our conference speaker, God led Rev. Percy Harris to accept the presidency. Not long afterwards he received his Doctor of Theology from Dallas Theological Seminary.

Arriving back at school for our third year, we discovered in delight our dining hall interior beautifully decorated. We are continually grateful to friends and our faculty who sacrificed to give us this pleasure.

The Christmas Musicales, instituted by our class was a highlight of our third year. So was the Graduation banquet for which we were responsible. Yet long after these memories fade, February fourteenth, the night of our semi-formal banquet will still be vivid. The presentation of Dr. Harris' life in "This is your Life" means even more to us now. Little did we suspect that in eight months he would be stricken with polio.

We all learned far more of our Saviour's love and compassion when our president lay paralyzed for three weeks and finally went to be with the Lord.

Our hearts are thankful that Accreditation became a reality just prior to Dr. Harris' death.

Yes, much has happened in four short years. We've seen progress brought about by changes too numerous to mention. Profitable years? Yes, exceedingly so. And "did not our hearts burn within us as He walked and talked with us by the way and while He opened unto us the Scripture" (Luke 24:32).

And now comes our time to graduate. We become freshmen again as we enter a new phase of our lives, but still we will continue to learn of Him.

Take that, and thy next duty shall be told thee,
For STEP BY STEP thy Lord is leading thee.

Stand not in fear thy adversaries counting,
Dare every peril, save to disobey;
Thou shalt march on, all obstacles surmounting,
For I, the Strong, WILL OPEN UP THE WAY.

Wherefore go gladly to the task assigned thee
Having My promise, needing nothing more
Than just to know, where'er the future find thee,
In all thy journeying I go before.

Evening School

IN CLASS

For the first time in years L.B.I. offered an evening school program during 1959-60. The first semester, eighty-two enrolled; the second semester, sixty-three.

The evening school students belong to seven different denominations. Bakers, builders, housewives, teachers, business men, and many other occupations were represented.

Courses in Bible and Doctrine, and practical courses in Sunday School work and Personal Evangelism filled the curriculum.

Our Missions Counsellor

The Rev. W. Elwyn Davies, Director for Canada of the Bible Christian Union and former missionary in Holland is our missions counselor.

Two or three days a month Mr. Davies visits L.B.I. and usually speaks in chapel. Because of his knowledge of missions and his strong spiritual impact, many students counsel with him about their place in God's missionary program.

REV. W. ELWYN DAVIES

MR. DAVIES WRITES . . .

Letters like these constantly arrive at L.B.I.:

"Although far away from L.B.I., I haven't ceased to praise the Lord for the precious years spent there, and for the training received."

"We appreciate the part that L.B.I. had in preparing us for the mission field."

Who writes these letters? Some of the one hundred and thirty-seven graduates serving as missionaries. But why have they left their homes and kindred?

THEY HAVE NOT gone out of pity for the underprivileged. If they had, they would not have lasted long in spiritual warfare.

THEY HAVE NOT gone for adventure. Such a motive would not explain their willingness to suffer and, if need be, to die in carrying out their task.

THEY HAVE NOT gone just because of the great spiritual need. The need at our doorsteps could keep us all at home.

THEY HAVE NOT gone because they saw that their going was God's will. It is God "Who will have all men to be saved."
It is God Who still thrusts out labourers into His harvest.

Their testimony and challenge to you is this:

I heard the call, "Come, follow!" — that was all;
Earth's joys grew dim, my soul went after Him;
I rose and followed — that was all.
Will you not follow if you hear His call?

Up the Amazon in a new river boat.

Our Project

Far into the depths of the South American forest, winds the great Amazon River. The little launch that Ivor Green-slade has been using to travel into this treacherous territory in Peru is slowly rotting. Soon he will be unable to use this boat to reach the tribes whom he loves and longs to win for Christ.

When the S.M.F. executive heard this news, they felt a need to assist Ivor, an L.B.I. graduate. Consequently they chose as the 1959-60 project, the purchase of another launch to battle the unceasing current which hinders the presentation of the gospel to the stone-age tribes.

1958 - 59 PROJECT: CAMP KAYOLAA — KENYA COLONY
Bill Adkins, Rev. George Wepler, A.I.M.

"WHERE THERE IS NO VISION THE PEOPLE PERISH."

Christ became real in the heart of an African boy because he was able to attend a camp in the heart of Kenya. This camp, directed by Frank Frew, a graduate of '51, was equipped by the students of our school in 1958-59.

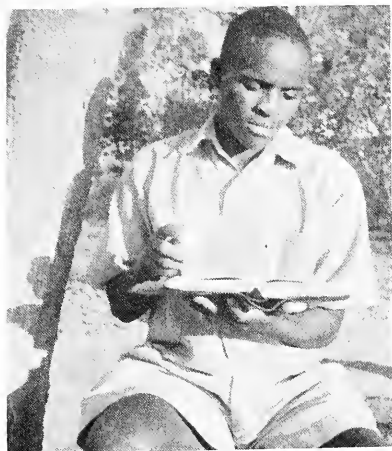

Here is the testimony of the African boy, Timothy Kilungu:

"When I arrived at camp I was very surprised at everything I saw. Since I was born I have never been helped as much spiritually or any other way as during camp. The study of God's Word was a challenge to me and if it were possible every boy ought to come to camp. When I go home, I'll tell all my friends how I enjoyed camp and all its activities, so that next time they will come and feel just what I felt in my heart."

Such a testimony makes us realize that our S.M.F. project is worthwhile.

Velma and Stella are dedicated to service in South America.

Mid-Winter Conference

A new field of Bible study was opened to us by Dr. Charles C. Ryrie, president of the Philadelphia College of the Bible, as he outlined the principles of Biblical Theology each morning of our mid-winter conference, February 9-13, 1959.

Dr. Ryrie emphasized the importance of historical background in interpreting God's word correctly.

In the evenings he showed coloured slides of Paul's missionary journeys. Dr. Ryrie has travelled to every place visited by the Apostle. With such a fascinating background, Dr. Ryrie's messages made the training, trials and victories of the Apostle come to life.

Fall Conference

"Are we cowboys or shepherds?" asked Dr. Vernon Grounds, president of the Baptist Theological Seminary, Colorado, as he discussed the task of the pastor in the morning sessions of our fall conference in Orocber.

"Cowboys are concerned with numbers," he said. "Shepherds must be physicians, always seeking to preserve their flocks."

Speaking on "Amateur Psychiatry versus Spiritual Therapy," Dr. Grounds said that a pastor only becomes an effective counselor as he knows his own weaknesses and strong points, and sympathetically understands the needs of others.

In the evenings Dr. Grounds discussed "Ministering in the Space Age." "We must be expendable, but how?" he asked. "By being men and women of discipline, of depth, and of devotion."

Dr. Grounds' talks abounded with colourful contrasts and quotations from psychiatrists but the quotation from Mrs. Dixon, of Taiwan, was unforgettable: "Life is like a coin. You can spend it as you like, but you can only spend it once."

Dr. Grounds puts his counselling principles into practice.

Christian Leadership

When it was announced that four students would be honoured for their Christian leadership at L.B.I., the student body asked themselves, "What are the requirements in order to be chosen? Who will the four be? Who is going to make the choice?"

Our own faculty carefully considered each student, and pondered and prayed about the ones who should receive this recognition. The choice was dependent not on an outgoing, vivacious personality, nor on academic standing, although this was taken into consideration, but on participation in Christian service and in extra-curricular activities and general contributions to school life.

The decision was a difficult one. The final choices in no way indicate favoritism by the faculty.

The purpose in originating this honour is to give impetus to students in future years to set higher goals for themselves and to attain greater heights for Jesus Christ.

The Ambassador staff and faculty desire that the students who received this honour will inspire others to become valiant Ambassadors for Jesus Christ.

Jim Moyer

Jim is a sportsman at heart. Fishing, hockey, baseball and golf are his "expensive" hobbies. However, this tall, lanky fellow has a busy schedule which doesn't allow much time for indulgence.

On weekends Jim busily and happily pastors the small, thriving Evangelical Baptist Church in Blair, Ontario. Already his longing to be a pastor has been partly fulfilled.

Jim graduated from Grade XIII at Waterloo Collegiate and now is in his third year of the B.Th. Pastors Course at L.B.I.

When eight years old, Jim attended some youth meetings at his home church in Waterloo, Ontario, and there realized his need of a Saviour. Since then he has allowed the Lord free course in his life and as a result was led to L.B.I.

Jim has been elected to several class executives and this year is president of the graduation banquet committee. This responsible position needs one with the ability to organize and carry out plans — Jim is just the one!

On June 6th, 1959, Jim married Louise Johannes. Now as they look to the future together and as they prepare to serve our Lord we are confident that Jim's favorite verse will always be a joy to them. "Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place."

Maureen Harvey

One cannot help but notice Maureen's sweet smile and soft pink complexion. Her sensitivity to the feelings and needs of others, and her love for the Lord are evident in her actions and words.

Since she was a little girl, Maureen has been planning to go to the mission field. Her favorite verse has always been "But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy and the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus."

After finishing Grade XII in Stratford, Maureen entered the Introductory Arts Year at L.B.I. Now about to graduate with a B.R.E. in Religious Education, she is considering a year at Missionary Internship in Detroit before going to the field.

During her summers Maureen has led many young people to the Lord at Word of Life Camp in New York.

Maureen has been on many student committees during her four years at L.B.I. This year she is president of the girls' dormitory, leader of the S.M.F. Jewish prayer group and a member of Students' Council and the Ambassador staff. She also teaches Sunday School and occasionally sings in school and church services.

We will miss Maureen. Our hearts and prayers follow her as she steps into new realms of service for the Lord.

Shirley Funnell

Shirley, a short, fair-haired bundle of energy, has had a varied and interesting life. A farm girl at heart, she loves the out-of-doors and has chosen summer work accordingly. For the past summers she has counselled at Forest Cliff Camp and Muskoka Baptist Conference. In high school she did everything from working in a bake shop to picking fruit.

An ardent photographer, Shirley is known to be one who lurks around corners and shoots life in all its hilarity and fun in the dorm.

After graduating from Grade XIII, Shirley took a year at Teachers' College and a night school course in typing before coming to L. B. I.

Now, with graduation just around the corner, Shirley is uncertain about her future. Secretarial work . . . Missionary Internship . . . Quebec . . . whatever it is, she desires to do only His will.

An active youth leader, Shirley works as a guide in Pioneer Girls as well as participating in Sunday School class activities.

As Shirley leaves us, we are confident that the verse that has been a source of encouragement to her this far will continue to be her strength: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart and lean not unto thine own understanding, in all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths."

Dean Balser

Dean flashed a quick contagious smile, "Man oh man," he said, "the greatest experience in my life was being asked to be Big Brother this year. To introduce all the new students to L. B.I. was a wonderful thrill."

Every since coming to L.B.I. in 1957, Dean has been an active participator in extra-curricular activities. Being "Big Brother" was a large assignment and Dean did a wonderful job of organizing and planning many of the activities. He has been elected to his class executive for three consecutive years and is currently president of the Student Missions Fellowship. His enthusiasm and tremendous energy are "caught" by his classmates and soon all are pushing with him toward his goals.

Dean, particularly interested in youth work, sponsors an I. S.C.F. group and assists as a Sunday School teacher. In the summer he substitutes for pastors on vacation as well as carrying on secular work. In this way he can finance his way through school while getting some practical experience.

"Fear thou not: for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness" is the verse which has been Dean's mainstay during times of discouragement and seeming defeat while at L.B.I.

We believe great things are in store for Dean, who is in his second year of the Pastors' Course. We will follow him with anticipation and our prayers as he continues on preparing for the Lord's service.

Orientation

Faculty Reception

I live at the corner of Queen's Avenue and Peter Streets. The students speak of me as being slightly old-fashioned but they all love me.

Last spring I thought of the four lonely months ahead without all the laughing, singing and talking and I felt so sad. I knew I'd miss feeling the presence of God as the people prayed in the chapel.

Then suddenly the summer was over and Big Brother Dean Balser and Big Sister Gwen Gellatly were here waiting for the freshmen to arrive for Orientation week. I can remember that just before the final exams last April, Dean and Gwen were planning for Orientation week. How time flies!

On the Tuesday after Labour Day, Dean was up on a ladder putting up signs in the foyer, which helped me say "Welcome." Where was Gwen? Why in the L.B.I. chapel decorating the curtains with the freshman theme "I am the Way."

Then the rush began! New footsteps hurried up my steps and pushed open my doors. "Ouch," I cried as freshmen dropped their suitcases too hard on me. I was so hot and so busy I didn't know which way to turn next!

Midnight, Tuesday and Wednesday . . . and Dean and Gwen were still up talking. They were so tired by the end of the week!

On Thursday I was awakened at 5:30 a.m. The new students talked excitedly about going out to Dr. Beckman's farm for breakfast. I had a few more much-needed hours of sleep!

The rest of Thursday I got my breath. The new students were being tested and registered. Some went job hunting.

Friday was a good day for their picnic. The freshmen met in my chapel where they had to do such crazy things as put clothes on backwards and put curlers in their hair for initiation. Then they were ushered into a truck and taken to Springbank Park. My, it was quiet here all afternoon without anyone around.

Saturday, Dean and Gwen decorated the dining hall for the climax of the orientation activities — the orientation banquet. What a big happy family! Being at L.B.I. to learn more about God! The new students heard "Daddy" Harris point his family to their heavenly Father. I got such a warmth running through my walls when I saw all those eager young people eating up God's message. I was thrilled to be called their home.

Sunday afternoon Rev. Daniel Firth of Chalmers Presbyterian Church pointed the students to "The Way" at the Vesper Service. As I felt the reverence in my chapel I knew that a wonderful year of blessing was in store for my family.

The Banquet

The Picnic

This is Your Life

Secrecy, secrecy, all was secrecy. Posters announced the semi-formal Valentine banquet the girls' dormitory was sponsoring for the men's residence. Mystery surrounded the news that someone's life story would be told in a presentation of "This Is Your Life".

"Who could it be?" the students wondered. Only three girls knew.

The night of the big event, cupids, hearts and streamers transformed the dining hall. The girls in their lovely formals, accompanied by their escorts, lent the final touch to the candlelit room.

Dinner music was provided by Mrs. Beckman who sang a solo and Carol Carey who played her violin. Mr. Carey gave his dialogue and piano rendering "In the Usual Way."

Later in the chapel the air was filled with suspense. "This is Your Life" was about to begin.

To the strains of "The Yellow Rose of Texas," the Mistress of Ceremonies, Maureen Harvey, described a certain young student who enrolled at Dallas Theological Seminary in Dallas, Texas, in 1947.

"This young man was an all-round student, a scholar, with a great sense of humour.

"We praise the Lord for leading him and his wife to L.B.I.

"And so . . . Dr. Harris . . . This is YOUR LIFE!"

While Marj Schindel played appropriate background music such as "Rock-a-bye-baby" and snap shots from the Harris family album were projected on a screen, Dr. Harris' life was unfolded. He recounted his amazing experiences during the war and in a concentration camp.

Hidden behind a curtain off-stage were special friends and relatives of Dr. Harris — his brother Ross and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morrison of Guelph, friends from University of Western Ontario days. Corsages were given to the ladies and Paul and Elizabeth Harris received story books. Dr. Harris was presented with an amplified New Testament and a "This is Your Life" scrapbook of memories. A coloured film of Dr. Harris' graduation from Dallas was a gift from Dr. and Mrs. Gannett.

This truly was a night to remember. The example of Dr. Harris' life was one to follow, because the life of Christ was seen in him.

Spring Picnic

"Hey, what's cooking?" yelled Lloyd Webb as he completed the mile and a half cross-country race from Springbank Park to Wonderland along the banks of the Thames.

"M-m-m! smells good," blurted Dr. Cramer, making a dash for the finish line on Bruce Ramsay's shoulders.

Luscious hamburgers sizzling on the open bar-b-que tantalized the hungry picnickers. Everyone sat around the old-fashioned teahouse and reminisced on the year's activities as they devoured bar-b-ques cooked by the men of class '62-'63.

What a day it had been! All kinds of games and relays had provided a lot of laughs and craziness. Goopy doughnuts on long fishing poles had been fed to boys lying on the ground. Then everyone had to blow up balloons and sit on them to see which one broke first. Shirley Funnell, looking for a few minutes rest had been tossed into a big flower pot and soon had become the target for basketball throws.

In a short devotional message at the end of the day, Rev. Jonas Shepherd challenged each one to attain greater heights in, through and for the Lord Jesus Christ.

"Help! I'm not a target."

Senior Retreat

On a cold Friday morning, November 6, twenty-five senior students squeezed into their loaded cars and headed north to Chesley Lake, a summer resort near Southampton.

In the scarcely heated cabins and dining room everyone shivered and walked around in overcoats. The activities, however, compensated for the lack of heat.

The seniors had brought their own food. The menu included such delicacies as turkey, juicy steaks, and homemade pie. The girls took turns cooking and proved they could keep house as well as labour over theological problems. The fellows washed wishes.

Dean Oakley spoke on the class's theme "Learn of Me." Dr. Beckman continued this theme in discussion periods in which he applied the truths of learning of Christ to the life of each student.

Ping pong, football, hiking through swampy woods, rowing boats on an ice cold lake in a biting wind, tending fires in the middle of the night — all were great sources of fun, and exercise unused muscles.

Games, preparation of the food and discussions around the Word of God drew the class closer together and closer to their Master.

On Sunday the seniors returned home thanking the Lord for a weekend of physical relaxation and spiritual refreshment.

Graduation Banquet

"Live the message you will preach to the world," challenged Rev. James P. Vold, pastor of Ottawa's Metropolitan Tabernacle at the Graduation Banquet held last April 17 to honour the graduating class of 1959.

"Christians need a definite revival of personal faith in God if the three greatest foes of civilization — communism, secularism and complacency — are to be overcome," he said.

Pastor Vold urged the twenty-two graduates to follow in the paths of the great men of old who had personal confidence in the promises of God, ability to adopt God's pace of living and the courage and conviction to be active in the project of God.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrison of Toronto thrilled hearts with their special selections in song. Mrs. Morrison's solo "God Hath Not Promised Skies Always Blue," left a lasting impression.

More than four hundred guests enjoyed the banquet of spring chicken in the Beal Technical school dining room. Red rose buds, made into a large '59 behind head table, became a favorite background for pictures of graduates.

The evening was planned by the class of '60 and their president, Doug Routledge, was the relaxed and capable chairman.

Rev. James P. Vold

Class Day Exercises

The graduating class presented the last chapel service of the year on the morning of graduation day, May 5, 1959. Every student testified briefly on the Lord's leading for the future . . . remaining at L.B.I. for further studies . . . linguistic training . . . college or further education . . . pastorate. Others were still looking to the Lord for His leading.

"We must spend much time in His presence to get to know Him," challenged Jim Twinem in his message to his classmates.

In her admonition to the Junior class Ruth Bellingham said, "To know Christ and to know Him better should be the desire of each student and not merely to obtain a high academic standing."

Through the years together the class had carried with them the theme, "Not I but Christ." This was the basis of the class song, written by Helen Hisey and sung by the whole class as the climax of the Class Day Exercises.

In the afternoon the graduates gathered on the lawn with their families and friends at the Graduation tea. Faculty and parents were introduced, gifts were given and cameras clicked and flashed incessantly. Dainty sandwiches and cookies prepared by the Ladies' Auxiliary added the finishing touches to a wonderful afternoon.

Baccalaureate

Three days of graduation activities began in a flurry on May 3 as the seniors donned graduation gowns and adjusted their mortarboards for the Baccalaureate Service. A few minutes before four on Sunday afternoon, students and faculty formed the procession which moved down Queens Avenue to Central Baptist Church.

Solemnly the students entered the church to the strains of "How Firm A Foundation." The faculty, impressively gowned according to their respective degrees, followed.

Choral selections were "Praise Be To Thee" and "Pleasant Are Thy Courts." The ladies' trio sang the beautiful dedicatory hymn "Consecration."

Guest speaker, Rev. E. L. Simmonds, M.A., B.D., Principal of Toronto Bible College, admonished the graduates to look only unto Jesus and become loving servants of His.

Realizing afresh God's love for them, the graduates sang exaltingly with the congregation "Like A River Glorious Is God's Perfect Peace."

Mr. Simmonds and Dick Fox

Graduation

"It was so exciting" exclaimed one of the seniors as she recalled the evening of graduation. Nervous chills ran up the spines of gowned grads as they waited for their cue to enter the auditorium of the H. B. Beal Technical and Commercial High School. The twenty-first annual commencement exercises were about to begin.

Receiving of their degrees and diplomas was the moment the grads had been waiting for. As Rev. Frank Koksma, Registrar and Dean of Faculty presented the graduates one by one to Dr. Harris, all inwardly hoped they would make it across the stage without stumbling. Dr. Harris' warm handshake and knowing smile encouraged them and gave them new confidence as they knelt before him to receive their hoods and degrees or diplomas.

Helen Hisey, Douglas German and Frank Rowe were presented with the General Proficiency awards by Dean Oakley. Margaret McDougall received the English award and Bill Paterson the Christian Service award.

Dr. S. A. Witmer, Executive Director, Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges, in his address, urged the graduates to completely surrender their lives in selfless dedication to the Lord. "Pour out your lives for others," he exhorted, "and then when you stand before Christ, you will be able to say, 'I was not disobedient to your calling.'"

The Maritime Tour

A bulging station wagon became a home on wheels for a month as the L.B.I. team made its way eastward last May. Ontario! Quebec! New Brunswick! Nova Scotia! The Maritimers welcomed them heartily.

Undergirding the team's strenuous schedule was the quiet, unsurpassed faith of Dr. Harris. Throughout the thirty-five services, Dr. Harris' quiet self-control spread out to each member of the team.

Each province was a picture. The team visited historical and religious scenes in Quebec. In New Brunswick they found Grand Falls, Hartland's covered bridge, Magnetic Hill, and Reversing Falls. Nova Scotia offered an ocean excursion, Halifax Public Gardens and Digby Gap.

More pictorial than all these was the evidence of blessing seen on the faces of the young and old who came to enjoy God's message in music and sermon. Enthusiastic alumni were encouraged, prospective students were visited, and hundreds of praying friends were contacted. Lord willing, L.B.I. will take another look at the Maritimes this spring.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT . . .

ALUMNI AWAKE! YOUR SCHOOL NEEDS YOU

While you were at L.B.I., did you ever think how a Bible School is started and maintained? They begin because men and women catch the vision of the Bible School program. With much prayer they press on. The result is we have Bible Institutes and Colleges dotting our land. But many of these faithful people are gone. Who will take up the task of promoting and maintaining Bible Schools, the greatest movement since Sunday Schools began?

The answer lies with us as Alumni. If we don't take up the challenge, who will?

The early pioneers in this movement supported it with their prayers, their pennies, and their persons. We must do the same. If our four hundred and ninety-nine Alumni were giving themselves to this part of God's program, we would have four hundred and ninety-nine Alumni who were giving and praying.

Where do you stand?

When did you last make an effort to visit the school?

Have you written to L.B.I. recently?

Have you thought of being a worker for your school?

Have you attended or tried to organize an Alumni chapter in your area?

Have you started to give to your school?

Do you pray for your school?

Alumni! The early pioneers are saying "Your school needs you." The board of directors is saying "Your school needs you." The faculty and staff are saying "Your school needs you." The students at L.B.I. are saying "Your school needs you." Above all the Lord is saying "Your school needs you."

What will be your response?

We students appreciate the Ladies' Auxiliary so much. This group of dedicated women, interested in our welfare, has done a great deal to make our stay at L.B.I. a pleasant and happy one. They have created a homey atmosphere by adding feminine touches of colour and frills to the girls' dorm and a motherly touch of curtains and spreads in the men's dorm. Last summer they spent hot sticky hours painting the furniture in the girls' dorm. Often they donate many hours to baking for parties and receptions at the school.

Have you seen L.B.I.'s new Filter Queen vacuum cleaner yet? It is the ladies' gift which delighted the students employed to keep the school clean.

Each lady prays for "her" student daily. We covet their prayers and understanding. Their genuine interest and love encourage us and make us feel "at home away from home."

"Now then we are Ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us; we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God."

The Ambassador staff has purposed to present Christ as "The Way" in every phase of the Christian life. We pray that this book will bring honour and glory to His Name and that as you go forth to serve Him, He will continue to be "The Only Way" for you.

Did not our heart burn within us, while He talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the Scriptures?

on the successful termination of these years of devotion and study.

The apostle of old testified, "I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth." We, too, will have joy in years to come to know that you are going on with God and standing for the faith "once delivered unto the saints."

We pray that God's richest blessing may attend your future steps.

On behalf of the Board,
F. B. Dixon,
Chairman
